DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

Examiner acknowledges response by applicant's representative received 9/30/04.

An examination of this application reveals that applicant is unfamiliar with patent prosecution procedure. While an inventor may prosecute the application, lack of skill in this field usually acts as a liability in affording the maximum protection for the invention disclosed. Applicant is advised to secure the services of a registered patent attorney or agent to prosecute the application, since the value of a patent is largely dependent upon skilled preparation and prosecution. The Office cannot aid in selecting an attorney or agent.

Applicant is advised of the availability of the publication "Attorneys and Agents Registered to Practice Before the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office." This publication is for sale by the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

1. Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sakamoto et al. (851) in view of Grunwald (418).

Sakamoto discloses a Card Game Toy For Use In A Battle Game.

Regarding claim 1

Sakamoto teaches a card game toy containing a plurality of cards that are marked with a template outfitted with guidelines used to enclose indicia (see figure 1-4 & abstract). Although Sakamoto teaches indicia enclosed in guidelines, he fails to explicitly teach any specific finish to his cards that would allow players to effectively personalize his cards.

The patent to Grunwald discloses Personalized Picture playing Cards. Grunwald teaches that his cards have a sensitized coating, which permits personalization (col. 1, lines 18-23 & col. 2, lines 45-48). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the cards of Sakamoto to include a sensitized finish (preferable a matte finish) that would allow the players the ability to personalize their cards during game play to add novelty to the game for the players.

Regarding claim 2

Sakamoto fails to explicitly teach that a logo on the reverse side of his cards. Grunwald teaches that the backs of his cards are identical (col. 2, lines 48-54). It would be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to make the backs of Sakamoto's cards identical to add an element of mystery to his game and consistency to his deck.

2. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sakamoto in view of Grunwald as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Becker (714).

Becker discloses A Ship, Captain And Crew Card Game.

Regarding claim 3

Both Sakamoto and Grunwald appear to teach the standard size for playing cards; however, nowhere in their respective disclosures do they mention the size of the cards utilized. Becker, not only appears to teach the standard card size, but discloses the corresponding dimensions (col. 1, line 43). It would be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the standard sized cards taught by Becker, for ease and comfort in handling, during game play.

Response to Arguments

Applicant should submit an argument under the heading "Remarks" pointing out disagreements with the examiner's contentions. Applicant must also discuss the references applied against the claims, explaining how the claims avoid the references or distinguish from them.

Conclusion

This action is a final rejection and is intended to close the prosecution of this application. Applicant's reply under 37 CFR 1.113 to this action is limited either to an appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences or to an amendment complying with the requirements set forth below.

If applicant should desire to appeal any rejection made by the examiner, a Notice of Appeal must be filed within the period for reply identifying the rejected claim or claims appealed. The Notice of Appeal must be accompanied by the required appeal fee.

If applicant should desire to file an amendment, entry of a proposed amendment after final rejection cannot be made as a matter of right unless it merely cancels claims or complies with a formal requirement made earlier. Amendments touching the merits of the application which otherwise might not be proper may be admitted upon a showing a good and sufficient reasons why they are necessary and why they were not presented earlier.

A reply under 37 CFR 1.113 to a final rejection must include the appeal from, or cancellation of, each rejected claim. The filing of an amendment after final rejection, whether or not it is entered, does not stop the running of the statutory period for reply to the final rejection unless the examiner holds the claims to be in condition for allowance. Accordingly, if a Notice of Appeal has not been filed properly within the period for reply, or any extension of this period obtained under either 37 CFR 1.136(a) or (b), the application will become abandoned.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure and are cited to show the state of art with respect to features of the claimed invention.
